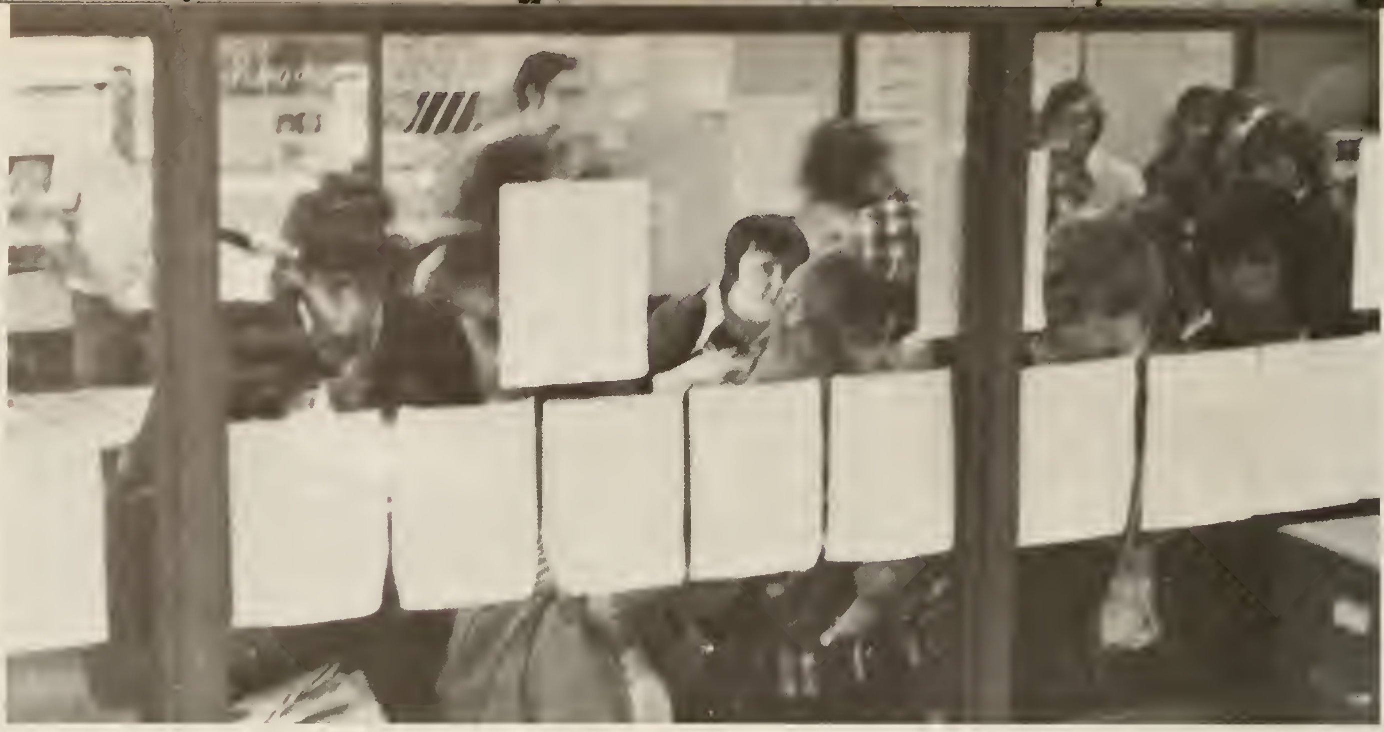
sunrise is the light by which man travels the sands of time.
his way is not straight, but waivers to and fro.
his path is not one, but many, so that he may choose . . .
paths that are bordered by flowers, or harbor hidden thorns.
some show the trial of those before us, that we may learn from them;
others are bare that we may lead the way for those to come.
in all ways, we leave our footprints on the sands
so that we may say:
"i have passed this way."

FALL



Orientation Sept. 3rd.

After a warm, sleepy summer, the UNH campus swung back into lively activity for the fall orientation of about 975 new students. A number of returning students, faculty, and administrators served as guides on tours of the campus, gave speeches on clubs, organizations and other UNH services, acted as hostesses at the Women's welcoming tea and collected the lost stragglers, herding them back to the student center. Recruitment for clubs and committees went on in full force; and a frantic grappling ensued for a place at the board to discover course names and room numbers.

One of the first things you learn at UNH is where the Bookstore is — the next is that you must get your books early in the semester (if they sell out, they might not re-order, and, also, most instructors prefer that you get your text a little before the mid-term anyway) and the third is that you must get there early, and be able to spare anywhere from 15 minutes to 2 hours finding your books and notebooks, deciphering the prices, and standing in line to pay for them. Take heart, it's only this busy at the beginning of each semester, and the people are helpful and friendly. It's an experience.

Mixers

The mixers on campus are sponsored by various clubs and organizations, and can accomodate the most varied tastes — folk, country, rock, soul or oldies, depending upon the weekend that you chose to go. The music and dancing are good, the people are rowdy, and sometimes even free beer!

All School Picnic

Every fall, the DSG throws an on-campus picnic, with the entire UNH community invited. Committee workers cook endless numbers of hot dogs and hamburgers, while everybody helps themselves to salads and soda. A place to sit is easy — anywhere in the vicinity of the grills (so you can go back for seconds), out of the way of traffic, in a circle with some friends, and preferably in the shade. It's a good way to relax, get a free meal, and get used to being on the UNH campus.

Dorm Life

Getting settled in at the dorm is no easy matter. It's a whole new routine to your life — walking to another building for your meals, trying to find a quiet place to study, getting used to being a member of the "on-campus minority" in a commuter school, making it all a place where you can really be comfortable.

Homecoming Weekend

The turn-out for the UNH alumni homecoming was over whelming and enthusiastic, even if the day was gray, and damp, and cool. Actually, the weekend started on the evening before, with a little reminiscing at the Bob-Shoo-Bop Rock 'n' Roll Revue Friday. Saturday morning, alumni signed in at the Hospitality Tent, and helped themselves to coffee and donuts. The UNH Soccer team hosted Philadelphia Textile, and, later, our Football team challenged Plymouth State. Between the two sporting events was an "all-you-can-eat" cookout, and everyone took advantage of the good food and the heat from the grills to fortify themselves for the rest of the activities. The DSH ran a caberet that evening to round-out the celebrations. Varied entertainments made for an interesting and happy time; and the wine flowed like, well . . . wine! The alumni were duly welcomed back!

UNH Builds A Brand New Library!

NEW HAVEN
COLLEGE LIBRARY

For years, the UNH community used the old brown building as an adequate, if somewhat crowded, library — but always held on to the hopes of a more modern library facility. In 1971, the dream was put to the test, and a funny triangular-shaped building was designed, to be attached to the end of the Main Building. Ground was broken, plywood walls were put up, and construction was underway. As everyone kept a watchful eye on the library's slow progress, some students happily decorated the campus by converting the plywood walls into a permanent art display. We almost hated to see those walls taken down; but they were removed, and our beautiful new library was finally finished! The library was named for our President-Emeritus, Marvin K. Peterson, and dedicated on a windy Sunday, October 20th.

Evening Students Host The President's Fall Welcome Dance

Every fall, the evening students hold a dinner dance to welcome their new students to UNH and acquaint them with the evening division. This year, the dance was held at Rapp's Pardise Inn, on Saturday, November 16th. There were flowers and bouteniers for the administrative guests, and a receiving line, so that everyone could greet the newcomers.

Guest of Honor , President Philip Kaplan and his wife, Vivian.

Spring Registration

At every pre-registration, confusion reigns supreme, and the registration for the spring '75 semester was no exception. In fear of not being able to get a place in the classes and sections they preferred, students arrived en masse at the gym, 8:30 AM, on the first of two days. Doing so, they pushed the system to its workable limits for for that morning and left it practically deserted and non- functional on the second day. Early instructions shouted out by faculty aides (once you got inside the gym), were confusing, but somewhat helpful — at least you got started in the right direction. Most students really had little trouble in selecting and being listed in the courses they wanted or needed. Everyone is starting to get the hang of it now, and given a few more times around, will have it down pat and the system will probably be revised again! . oh, well.

The real end of the semester was, as always, final exams. Having to study for them is exhausting, and sometimes seems so pointless; but nothing creates a feeling of "do or die" more readily than sitting in your class for the last time and staring down at one of those little blue books. At least they're done and out of your mind for the Christmas holidays; now all you have to think about are the grades that should be arriving soon . . .

PRESIDENT

D S G Elections

It was one of the most boisterous campaigns the UNH campus has ever seen. The candidates for president of the DSG hung posters, made speeches, created campaign slogans, and handed out pencils and leaflets like they were going out of style. Traces of the campaigning were everywhere, but the Student Center was furiously busy, ablaze with politics and smiles.

The voting was set for December 2-5, and the Elections Committee kept a watchful eye on the proceedings. Late on Thursday night, the ballots were counted, and the results were brought down to the waiting crowd of candidates, delegates, and friends:

Dave Bufalini — 270
Paul Banville — 265
Chuck Manns — 138
Russ Sharpe — 87
and for Treasurer:
Tom Sullivan — 465
Dan Criswell — 248

The crowd reacted both happily for the winners, and compassionately, understandingly, for the losers — for everyone had tried. It was all over . . . everyone walked over to the Rathskellar, to talk, or think, and to settle things in their minds . . . to wish the winners the best of luck in their offices.

Evening Students' Annual Children's Christmas Party

On a Saturday before the Christmas holiday, the UNH Cafeteria turns into a wonderland of wrapped gifts, elves, and Christmas trees. The children of the evening students are all invited to come. They visit with Santa, telling him things they'd forgotten to include on their lists for Christmas, and playing with the toys he gives them as "early" Christmas presents. Many of their parents volunteered to help serve cookies, candy, & soda to the excited and happy children who have already spoken with Santa, and listen as they recount what Santa has promised to bring them.

Mid-Year Commencement

Four hundred twenty-nine degrees were awarded by the University of New Haven at its fourth annual mid-year commencement exercises at 10:30 a.m., Sunday, January 26, 1975.

Norman I. Botwinik, Chairman of the University's Board of Governors presided over the ceremonies. President Phillip Kaplan conferred the degrees. One hundred and nineteen Master's degrees were awarded; fifty Bachelor of Arts degrees and two hundred and eight Bachelor of Science degrees were conferred; and fifty-two graduates received Associate in Science degrees.

The University of New Haven also awarded four Honarary Degrees: Dr. William R. Bennett, J., Doctor of Science; Garo Willard Ray, Doctor of Engineering; John Hersey, Doctor of Humane Letters; and Myres Smith McDougal, Doctor of Laws.

The Dean of Students awards for outstanding achievement and service to the University were presented to the following graduates: Bennie J. Haynes, B.A. Political Science; Theodore F. Kunkel, B.S. Criminal Justice; Thomas W. Murphy, B.A. Sociology; and Edward Joseph Regan, III, B.S. Civil Engineering.

The DSG Christmas Party

The DSG held a Christmas party for the Day Students, but it was a little different from the Evening Students version. It was held in the Cafeteria, but Santa wasn't there, and instead of cookies and soda, the DSG provided free beer. Everyone sang, and danced, and had a good time . . even if Santa couldn't attend.

Caberet!

Possibly the best-loved form of social function on campus is the Caberet. They are free to UNH students, and tables are set up with bowls of potato chips and pretzels. (You'd never recognize the cafeteria, it looks so much different with little tables — complete with checked cloths — and dimmed lighting!) Ice and glasses are provided; you bring your own wine or beer. The bands, dancers, comedians, and poets are chosen from a wide and varied selection, and there is almost always an opportunity to dance. No matter what sort of mood you find yourself in on Saturday night — you're almost sure of enjoying the caberet . . so come!

With the start of the new semester, the Day Student Government underwent its annual change-over of officers and delegates.

It's a sad time; the "Kunkel Administration" held its last meeting, and a luncheon was given in honor of the four departing DSG officers: Ted Kunkel, President; Steve DiMugno, Vice President; Ed Davies, Treasurer; Terry Principi, Secretary. Ted expressed his appreciation to the people who had worked for the DSG and congratulatory speeches were made all around .

and it's also an eager time. The new DSG administration moved in, hung its own posters, and set down to business. Chi Kappa Rho's Fashion Show — Card Party

This year marked the 12th Annual Fashion-Card Party Show, sponsored by the Chi Kappa Rho Soroity. The Show is held each year for the benefit of the Virginia M. Parker Scholarship Fund, which goes to one incoming Fall Freshman Girl.

All the sisters in the sorority work on the show in one way or an other. They bake, sell tickets, get door prizes, set-up and decorate the Student Center the day of the Show, and do many other things that go along with putting on a show like this one.

The sorority's advisor, who is Mrs. Muriel MacKay works hard all year around on the show. All the sorority sisters would like to extend a warm THANK YOU to her, and all those who donated their time and effort.

Who's Who Among Students In American Colleges And Universities

Who's That? No … Who's Who! The committee, headed by Carole Aiken, chose the 25 students out of those nominated. It was a hard decision — to help them, the previous QPR was upped from 2.5 to 3.0, and along with this, they should have made a major contribution in at least one club or organization on campus. It was a tough decision but one that had to be made! Congratulations to those who made it!

Like the Pied Piper, the music magically drew students together in the warm, sunny afternoon on campus. It's nice to think a group of people can do that — what started as practice soon became a concert.

The D.S.G.

Throughout the spring and summer months, many of the local clubs and organizations put softball teams together and challenge each other to numerous play-offs. One such "contest" was the DSG vs. The NEWS. After many verbal disagreements during the year, both groups decided to put it all to the test: a softball game! The final result was DSG — 9, The NEWS — 8; the MVP's were Bob Ryan, shortstop (DSG), and Bill Murphy, pitcher (NEWS).

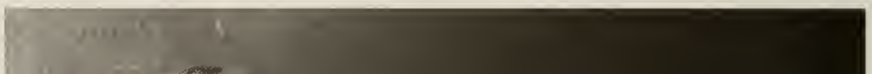
Evening Students Host 1975 Graduation Prom Dance



On Saturday, May 24, 1975, the Evening Student Council sponsored the Graduation Prom/Dance for the 1975 Evening Student Graduates. It was held at the Ramada Inn, North Haven, Connecticut; and 200 people attended. There was a cocktail hour, dinner, and dancing, with an open bar.

After dinner, three awards were presented (The Marvin K. Peterson Scholarship Fund) to the following recipients: Nicholas Cifaldi, Patricia Henry, and Edward Smith.

Also, certificates were given to the husbands and wives who helped "push" their spouses through college.

University of New Haven Holds 52nd Annual Commencement

Five hundred and thirty-five degrees were awarded by the University of New Haven at the fifty-second annual commencement excercises, on Sunday, June 8th.

Norman Botwinik, chairman of the UNH Board of Governers, presided over the ceremonies. President Phillip Kaplan conferred all degrees. Eighty-two Master's degrees were awarded; 79 Bachelor of Arts degrees and 301 Bachelor of Science degrees were conferred; and 73 graduates received Associate in Science degrees.

The University also awarded three honorary degrees: Herta Glaz Redlich, founder and artistic director of the New Haven Opera Theatre, received a Doctor of Fine Arts; Dr. Rollin Gustav Osterweis, Yale University Professor of History and Oratory, was given a Doctor of Humane Letters; and Dr. Ruth Patrick, Chief Curator of the Limnology Department at the Academy of Natural Sciences in Philadelphia, received a Doctor of Science. Dr. Patrick also delivered the commencement address.

Dr. Joseph Parker, Dean of the Graduate School, presented the Masters degree candidates. Bachelor degree recipients were presented by their respective deans: Dr. Douglas Robillard, School of Arts and Sciences; Warren Smith, School of Business Administration; and Thomas Warner, Jr., School of Engineering. Associate degree candidates were presented by Dr. Alexis Sommers, provost.

The Dean of Students' awards were presented to the following graduates: Leon E. Jones, B.A. in Sociology; Gery P. Alexander, B.S. in Criminal Justice; and Edward J. Drew, Jr., B.S. in Criminal Justice.

Mary E. Maton, B.S. in Communications; and Thomas J. Lynskey, B.S. in General Management, were presented with the Alumni Association awards.

The Wallace Silversmiths award was given to Robert W. Ryan, B.S. in Economics.

Alpha Sigma (Evening Honor Society) honored Ronald J. Fachini, B.A. in Marketing; while the Alpha Chi Honor Society awards were presented to Erline A. Reilly, B.A. in Sociology; Harry B. Kirchner, B.S. in Hotel and Restaurant Administration; and Kenneth D. Ashton, B.S. in Civil Engineering.

"unh by day and by night"

when a college or university is large, there are more chances for an extremely diverse population — but then, these differences are more difficult to detect because of the size of the scale. the larger the means of comparison, the more generalities one tends to use. with a university the size of unh, the differences between people can often go unnoted, but rarely go undetected. if you stop to think about it, there are some 5500 students here, and each is very unique. we have tried, throughout this book, to represent the people who attend this university, and why they have chosen to do so. perhaps the following comparing and contrasting categories will help you to understand a little more clearly what different people hope to achieve in their time here.

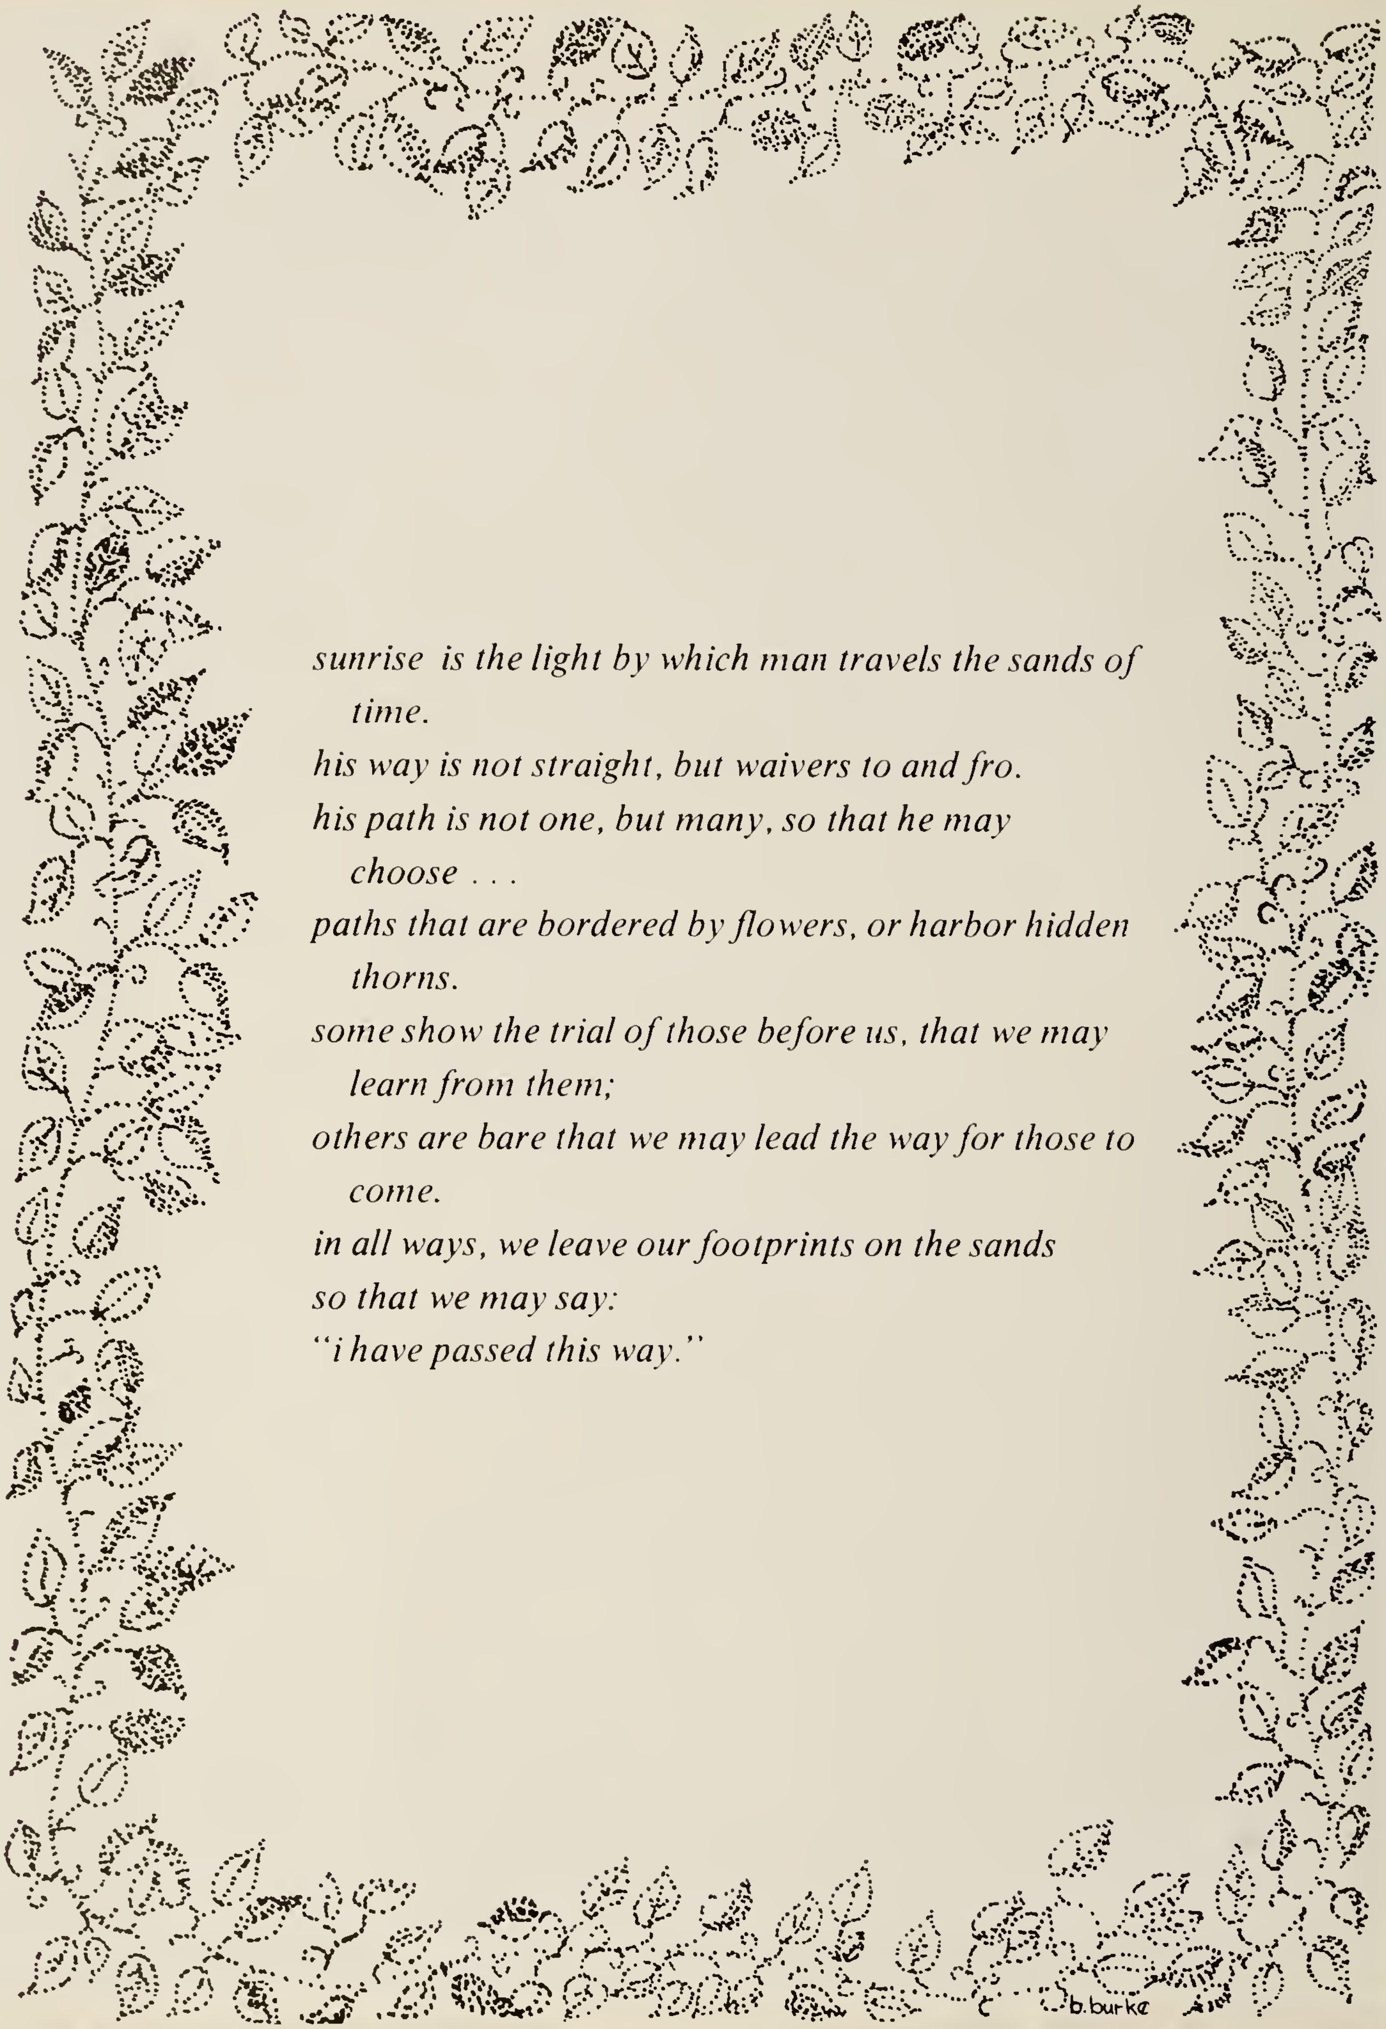
BOOK TWO



sunrise is the light by which man travels the sands of time.
his way is not straight, but waivers to and fro.
his path is not one, but many, so that he may choose . . .
paths that are bordered by flowers, or harbor hidden thorns.
some show the trial of those before us, that we may learn from them;
others are bare that we may lead the way for those to come.
in all ways, we leave our footprints on the sands
so that we may say:
"i have passed this way."

ORGANIZATIONS

RSITY OF NEW HAVEN
OUNTING CLUB

Accounting Club

The Accounting Club strives to promote the field of Accounting at the University of New Haven, and increase the student's understanding of the various careers open to them. To achieve these goals, the Club frequently hosts guest speakers from various professional areas, such as the Internal Revenue Service, Public Accounting firms, and Corporate Accounting. In addition to these activities, the club helps promote an annual field trip to an established financial institution, such as the Securities & Exchange Commission, or the New York Stock Exchange; and organizes Student-Faculty Forums where accounting courses and programs at the University are discussed and evaluated. The activities of the Accounting Club have expanded through continually increasing students support, and looks forward to continued success in the future.

CHEERLEADERS

Seen at most of the Football games and many of the Basketball contests this year was a group brand new to UNH — Cheerleaders! With the initial backing and advice from Don Ormrod, the squad was organized by Jeanne D'Ambruoso — and many hours were dedicated to practice.

These women worked, learned, and exhibited more enthusiasm than ever seen before. They did so without any athletic or professional coaching. Even though they received minimal student support, they enjoyed their endeavor and plan to continue next year. Many thanks to Dr. Joe who supported them all the way.

MANAGEMENT CLUB

The purpose of the Management Club is to give its members valuable insight into the management workings of the outside world. Together, they explore management techniques and how they will affect companies and the working environment. The club offers valuable experience not found in classroom teachings. "One Learns By Doing."

Evening Student Council

The Evening Student Council is an organization established to unite the Evening Students for the purpose of promoting the welfare of the student body of the University; to develop and encourage a school spirit among the evening student body through social and other activities; to convey evening student opinion to the administration of the University; and to cooperate with the administration of the University in accomplishing these objectives. The council has also been active in assuring continued veteran benefits to qualified students. The Evening Student Council meetings are usually held the first Saturday of each month in the faculty lounge.

The following is a list of the 1974-75 representatives on the Evening Student Council: Harry Ackley, George R. Baker, Christos P. Banos, John L. Hunter, Edmund Kozlowski, Thomas Lacey, Mary Ann Mikosky, Louise J. Smith, John F. Tarantino, Jr., Barbara Taylor, John Tomchick, and William Vos.

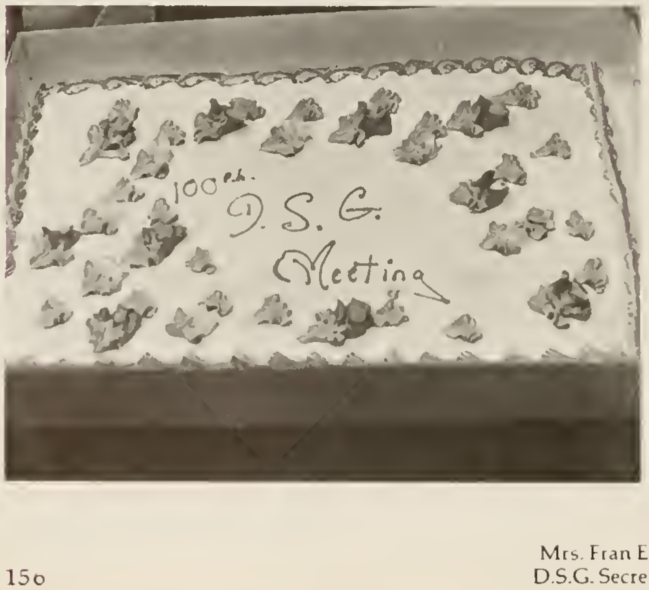
The D.S.G.

The DSG is a unique student government in its independence from the school's administration. Some $100,000 in Student Activity Fees are distributed by the DSG. This represents a $30 per semester investment by you, the student. The Question is, what are you getting for your money?

The DSG sponsors social events throughout the year. Caberets, picnics, lectures, and films are all subsidized by the Student Activity Fee. It is up to the Student body to tell the DSG what activities they want. An individual student can change nothing by himself or herself. The DSG is the representative of student opinion in areas ranging from academic to social. So the choice is up to you: you can influence what effects you, or accept whatever happens.



Mrs. Fran Erba,
D.S.G. Secretary

D.S.G. Advisor, Dr. D.C. Reams, was honored at the last meeting of the spring semester. Dr. Reams will begin a 1 yr. sabbatical next year.

WNHU — 88.7 FM

The student's FM radio station, WNHU, has now been on the air two years and keeps growing almost daily. Staff members come from virtually every major curriculum without broadcasting experience. When they leave, though, not only have they acquired practical broadcasting, engineering and journalistic skills, but also a definite attitude of pride at having been members of the single, fastest-growing activity on campus and an integral part of station picnics, contests, ballgames, "West Campus" meetings, and the infamous (incredible?) annual paper plate awards.

Built entirely by energetic students, WNHU has twice achieved a national recognition. The first time was in January of 1974, when announcer Tony Salzo broke the world's record for the most continuous hours of broadcasting singles — 270 hours, nearly 12 days. Then, in April of this year, the readers of Broadcast Management/Engineering Magazine voted WNHU Best FM Station in the nation for it's cost saving ideas and economic structural design.

Located in the south wing of the third floor in the student center, the community-minded station has played an active role in social functions, too. For example, they took portable equipment down to the New Haven Green last year to broadcast live concerts being sponsored by NARCO, Inc., a drug rehabilitation clinic, and have stationed reporters at political campaign headquarters in all the area towns during major elections. Additionally, to keep sports fans informed, the station has broadcast both home and away games of the University's baseball, football, hockey and basketball teams.

Currently, WNHU broadcasts 365 eighteen-hour days a year at a frequency of 88.7 megahertz. With room for all musical preferences, they now play primarily progressive rock, interspersed with generous helpings of soul, jazz, folk, classical, blues, and disco along with numerous educational programs for the more intellectual listeners. "We can teach anyone with initiative to be a broadcaster," claims WNHU's proud management.

ALPHA CHI

Alpha Chi Honorary Scholarship Society is the highest honor conferred on any student at the University of New Haven. Students who rank in the top ten percent of the Junior and Senior classes are invited to become members. The society has over one hundred chapters nationwide and UNH's is the only existing one at a University in Connecticut.

Activities of Alpha Chi include a formal induction ceremony, which was held in the Student Center Lounge on April 12th. The ceremony included the presentation and induction of new members, a guest speaker, recognition of "Teacher-of-the-Year" and "Outstanding Seniors" awards and installation of officers. This year, the audience was enthralled by the quick wit of Professor Wilbert Snow. Noted poet, statesman and scholar, the 91-year-old Professor Snow is still active in education and writing. Forty-seven new members were inducted at that ceremony.

The goals of Alpha Chi include scholarship, character and service as the traits which combined make education effective for good in society. The society's motto is "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free".

Veterans Club

The Veterans Club concluded the year with a picnic at Sleeping Giant State Park on May 17, 1975. The purpose was to acknowledge the hard work of those who helped the club conduct a successful raffle to support its activities.

The club's functions were somewhat limited, but included year 'round letter-writing campaigns and lobbying on behalf of veterans' legislation. In addition, the club sponsored promotion of campuswide recognition of Veterans Day.

"The Grave Problem Of The Tweeners"

By Art Hoppe

"The Grave Problem of the Tweeners"

copyright, 1971, Cronicle Publishing Company, reprinted by permission of the author.

WElcome to Wonderfuland

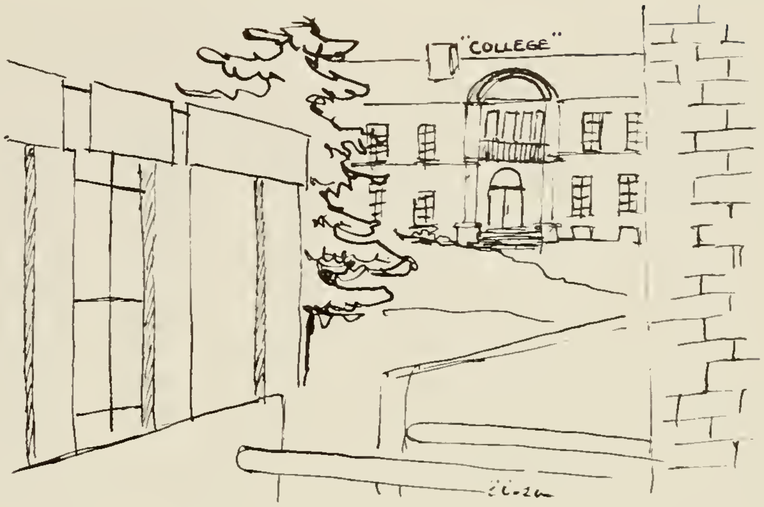
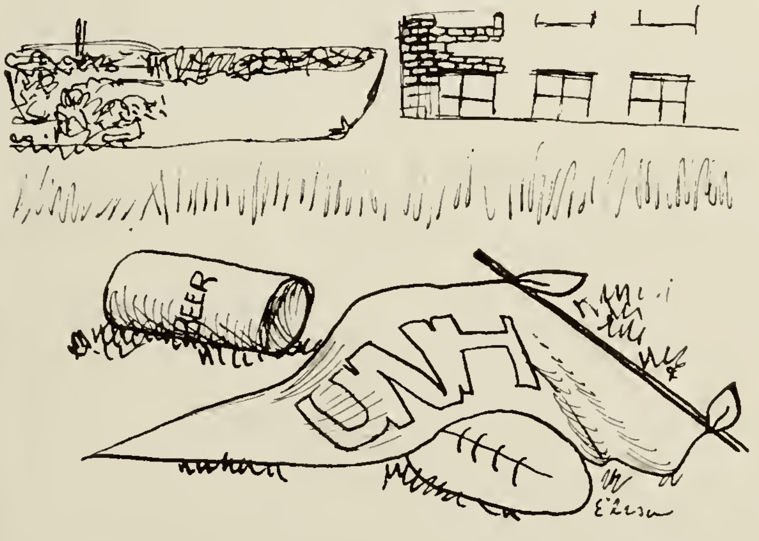
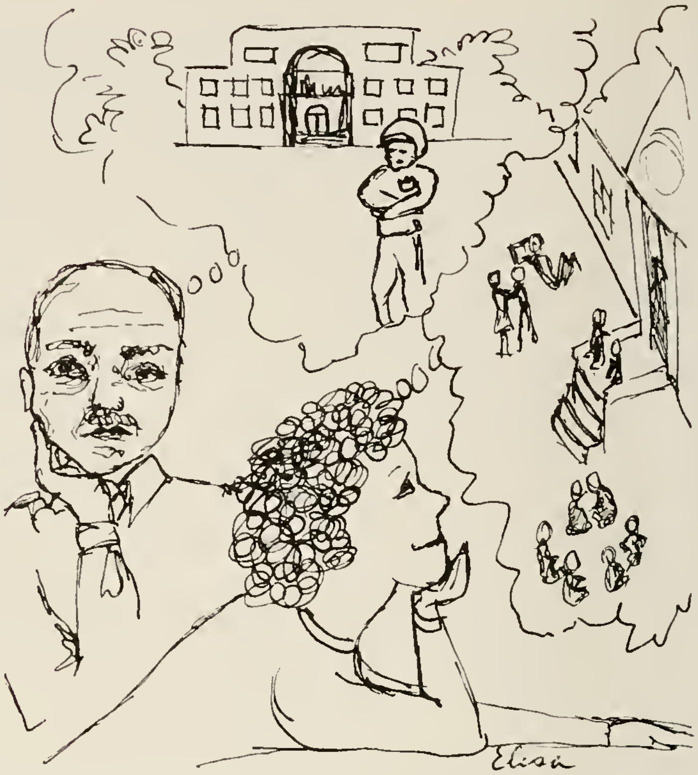
Once upon a time in the country called Wonderfuland, The Elders faced a grave problem: What to do with the Tweeners.

*Now everybody in Wonderfuland had something to do — everybody but the Tweeners. The children went to school and learned mostly useful things and the grown-ups went to work and did mostly useful things. And being most-usefully busy, they were mostfully-usefully happy. *But the Tweeners were too old to be children and too young to be grown-ups. And far too smart-alecky to have around the house.



*"There's only one solution," said the eldest Elder gravely. "As soon as they're too old to be children, we must put them away in an institution until they're old enough to be grownups." *The other Elders recoiled in horror. "Let's think of something else," said one with a shudder. So they thought. And thought. And thought. "Perhaps, if it were a nice institution," said a kindly elder tentatively, "with lots of grass and trees . . ." ". . . and games for them to play," said another brightly. ". . . and cars and beer and dances," said a third enthusiastically. "and if it had an impressive name," said a fourth. "I know! Let's call it college."





So the Elders built an institution, called it College and put the Tweeners away there until they could grow up. *Of course, they didn't tell them that. They told them, "you must widen your horizons, assimilate ideas and prepare for life." *To widen horizons, instill ideas and prepare them for life, the Elders staffed the college with old men called "Scholars," who weren't good for much else. *Naturally, the Scholars, being Scholars, were not interested in Scholarship then in talking to Tweeners. But twice or thrice a week they dutifully tore themselves away from their Scholarship to talk for 50 minutes about what they were interested in to the Tweeners. Like, The Sex Life of the Angiosperm. Or, the Use of the Dipthong in Etruscan Funeral Orations. *As an incentive to assimilating ideas, the Tweeners were given letters. They got big letters to wear on their sweaters for playing games well. And little tiny letters, ranging from A to F, for studying what the Scholars were interested in. *After four years, they were certified "prepared for life" and released from the institution. *Everybody was happy. The Tweeners were happy playing games, drinking beer, dancing and accumulating letters. And The Elders were happy to have them out of the house. *Then one day a Tweener looked thoughtfully around and said, "But what's all this got to do with anything?" And the other Tweeners said, somewhat surprised, that they were hanged if they knew. And pretty soon the Tweeners were demonstrating from dawn to dusk, raising a terrible fuss. *"But we've given you grass and trees and games and dances and beer and letters," said the Elders, rather plaintively. "What is it you want?" *Frankly, we're darned if we know," admitted a Tweener Leader, scratching his head. "But whatever it is, this isn't it."

Moral: College is a wonderful institution — for those who want to grow up in an institution.

congratulate every UNH 1975 graduate for their achievements and wish them all a very happy future.

this small space is reserved for a few 1975 graduates who are my special friends:
  tom murphy,
  julie buono,
  lou stein,
  patty arbusto,
  ed drew,
  mary maton,
  barry bosworth,
  donna damon,
  gery alexander,
  mary walsh,
  liz iorfino,
  joe hurbon,
  and — of course —
  bob ryan.
in whatever you all do, where ever you go . . . i can only wish for you the very best things that life can offer.

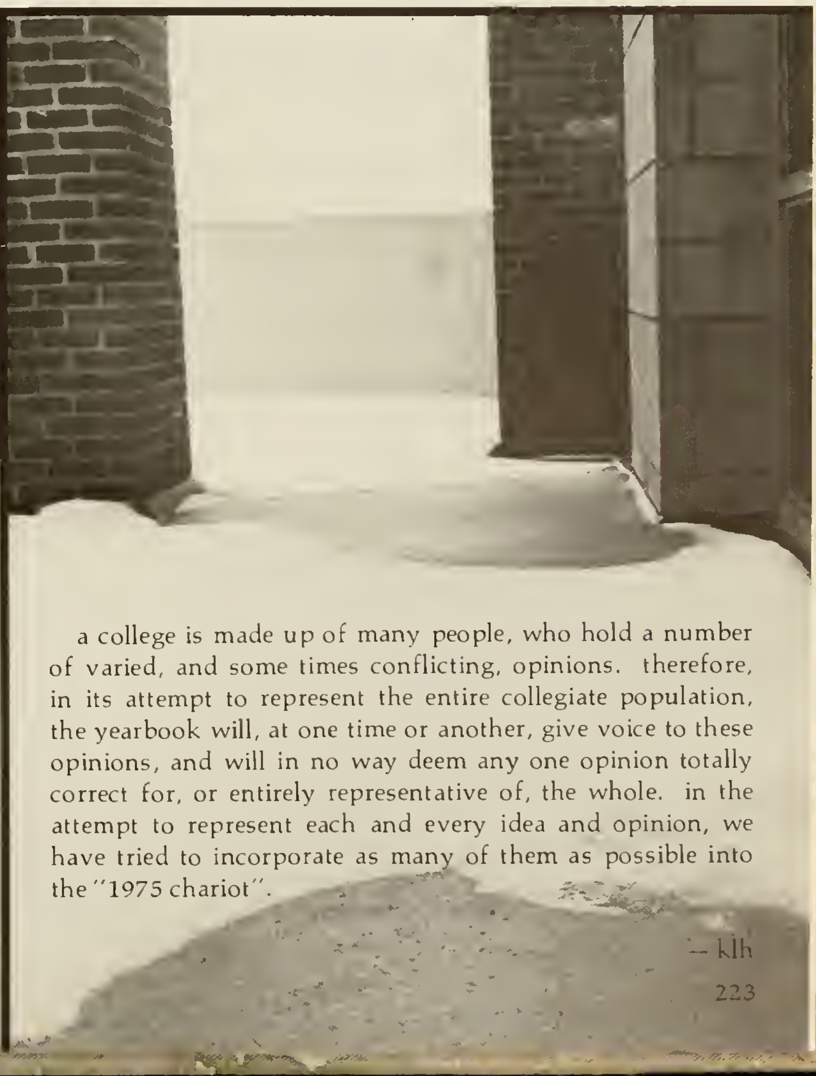
with love,
kathy



a college is made up of many people, who hold a number of varied, and some times conflicting, opinions. therefore, in its attempt to represent the entire collegiate population, the yearbook will, at one time or another, give voice to these opinions, and will in no way deem any one opinion totally correct for, or entirely representative of, the whole. in the attempt to represent each and every idea and opinion, we have tried to incorporate as many of them as possible into the "1975 chariot".

FROM THE DESK OF

kathy huber

it is very difficult to write this closing these two pages are the only place where i can express my feelings and comment on the happenings of 1974-75 university of new haven. on the average, i believe that it was a good year for the unh community. the people here were sometimes faced with a difficult decision, and — as usual — it was a small number who came up with workable solutions. so many people come and go at unh, and only a few of them give of themselves for the benefit of fellow students, faculty members, or administrators, and for the benefit of the university itself. i wish that more people could care as much . . . but apathy is an old song here, and many have come to simply accept it and try to make the very best of the situation that exists. perhaps such comments do not even belong in this closing . . perhaps.

when discussing and planning the content of this open letter, i was told that my closing should be one word: "amen!" i almost took that suggestion — but then, nobody else would have felt all the relief and thanksgiving packed into that one word, without further explanation. as i'd said before, on the average, it has been a good year, with both high and low points. the creation of this yearbook was with uncommonly good feelings, but it all wrapped up on a really hard note — the angry resignation of a staff member, coupled with the end-of-the-year blues that always seem to appear around the finishing of a yearbook. it was all truly a shame, a lot of hard feelings were created . i wish that it never had happened. the main reason that such an occurance is so hard to take is the staff who created and worked on this book — it was a small staff, but a dedicated one. i wish that i could really tell them all how much their participation meant. i'd like to thank them all, at least one more time. for marion, nick, tony, terry, chet, and phil — you all will be back again next year. only heaven knows why . . . it's a thankless job you've chosen to do but i'm looking forward to working with you all again. the yearbook has become a challenge, and an art, to those who've tried it once and decided to give it another go. i'm glad that you all were able to join the chariot staff for another year. for liz, and phil — thank you for working on the book this year. your contributions really made this book special, even more so because it was your final project before leaving unh. for betsy, for coming over to help out all the way from the university of bridgeport — just "thanks" . . . you'll be around as long as we're friends — forever. that is my staff — all such nice people, who listened to each other — and especially me — gripe and complain, and then pitched in to help in the trouble-area, and all took such pride in the development and completion of this yearbook. i couldn't have even tried to do it without any of you. there are also many other people on campus who took an active part in the creation of the 1975 chariot. mrs. erba, in the dsg office, who always had the right information at the right time; joe cieplak, from public relations, who was always there with pictures for us to "borrow" and advice to give; joe macionus, from student records, how he patiently listened to our crazy requests and then always got the right information to us from the data center; jim toomey, our representative from american yearbook co., who had the patience of a saint with us all when we missed all those deadlines (even if he was always late for our meetings!), and to david milne, my old yearbook advisor from high school, who i sometimes frantically called just before a deadline, for advice and opinions. all of these people, and so many more that i just cannot name, gave so much for the production of this book. thank you all.

i know that i should be bidding farewell to all of the graduates, but maybe i'm one of the few who don't have to say goodbye. the yearbook that i've designed and put together will be the most steadfast key to the memories that each graduate has accumulated from his stay at unh. whenever he or she looks through their copy of the 1975 chariot, it will bring to mind many forgotten moments — some good, some bad, but all of them safely tucked away in a corner of their minds, needing only to be touched upon to be seen. it is through such a chain reaction that i hope, perhaps, this book, and the staff who created it, will achieve a little bit of timelessness.

i know, i know . . . i should be leaving you all to get on with the futures you've prepared for, (i always have had a tendency to talk too much!) but closing phrases come hard and seem so trite when they are meant to be given to friends. "good luck," "congratulations on your achievements," "best wishes for the future" — all of these are proper, and certainly apropos, but they seem somehow empty of the feelings that i wish to convey. perhaps, then, i should just leave you with a salutation and a wish that a "mr. spock"-type person (to whom this book truly belongs) once gave to me: peace, live long and prosper.

with love,

kathy-leigh.
